

March 21, 1974

It's an Attorney General's opinion on this. That was the purpose for this bill. That part of the bill. And I wonder if we could just hold it over until the..this part is explained by the Secretary of State.

PRESIDENT: Well, now hold tight. How long does...just hold over until when? Like you know?

SENATOR MARESH: Oh, later this afternoon. At the end of this Final Reading.

PRESIDENT: You want to...okay...you want to delay it now until the end of Final Reading at least for now?

SENATOR MARESH: Right, and then if they want to act on it, to bring it back, it's okay with me.

PRESIDENT: Okay, but the Chair wants to make it understood, Senator Mares, that if we get past Final Reading, etc. and you've lost a chance to consider it.

SENATOR MARESH: Just to have it read last.

PRESIDENT: Okay, because there are people who are pretty anxious to get off of Final Reading here now. Senator Syas.

SENATOR SYAS: Yes, I just want to say that I can't....I'm interested in this bill and I can't be here tomorrow because I'm a pallbearer at a funeral and this thing reveals what we now do and I don't think you want to do it. At least I don't want to do it. And I don't mind holding it until the end of Final Reading but not beyond that because I think this bill should be acted upon. This stuff should be taken out of there or the bill should be killed. Now, every session we have some round about way to do something that somebody wants done that the Legislature doesn't want to do it. And then in the presentation, we're not told the whole thing of what the bill does and it gets over in Final Reading. This is not the first time it's happened. I'll wait until it gets the end of Final Reading but no further than that.

PRESIDENT: All right, we're going to pass over LB897 then until we get at least until the end of Final Reading here. We'll move on to the next bill then which is LB905. Attention please, the Final Reading of LB905. Clerk will read the bill.

CLERK: Read LB905.

PRESIDENT: Who wants to handle the motion on LB897? Okay, Senator Mares.

SENATOR MARESH: Mr. President and members of the Legislature. I would ask for unanimous consent to bracket this bill for Monday, March 25.

PRESIDENT: All right, Senator Mares asking unanimous consent to bracket LB897 until Monday. Are there any objections to bracketing the bill until Monday? Any objections? Hearing none, so ordered. The bill is..... whoops.....Senator Duis, you're not objecting to the bracketing? Okay. The bill is bracketed. The Chair recognizes Senator Duis.
